Пояснение.

Speaker A. For any celebration you have so many people to give presents to: your mates, parents, relatives. It creates a problem of choosing an original present. I think everybody is so tired of traditional gifts! To my mind, the simplest way out is accessories. They are always different and can suit everybody. For family members it may seem a good investment if it's expensive enough and it may definitely help your friends look great at a party!

Speaker B. As for me, I dislike pragmatic, domestic gifts. They may be useful, of course, but when you get a present, you expect a surprise, not a new kind of washing powder. I do not understand people who are happy to get kitchen towels, cups, dishes or anything like that. If you do not have any innovative ideas, buy some perfume or flowers – they are not practical, they are pleasant.

Speaker C. Honestly speaking, I'd be glad to get a weekend camping tour even to a local place of interest. It would be the best present and the worst is perfume. Perfume is the ultimate in personal gifts, even more than accessories. What scent a person chooses is unique and usually very subjective. It also looks like a last-minute decision which may seem impolite, unless you are absolutely sure in your choice, which, as I said is a rare case.

Speaker D. Giving and receiving presents can be stressful. A picky person can dislike some gifts or even worse – give them to somebody else. Horrible! So I found a perfect way out – a gift certificate. For anyone who likes shopping it is ideal and you don't waste time trying to find something special. But there are disadvantages about a gift certificate too. A person may think that you just didn't want to be bothered and get offended, so it's not a universal present after all.

Speaker E. If you can afford it, try not to give things, but experiences as a present. It is not necessarily something very expensive. Tickets to the first night performance or to a new exhibition in an art gallery, or anywhere else will do fine. It is even better if you can go there together and share these experiences. Take a camera with you and take pictures! Such a present will leave long-standing memories which are dear themselves.

Speaker F. Living in a high-tech world, it would not be unusual to buy gadgets as a present. If your friend commutes, it can be an iPod, if your friend is very busy – an electronic organizer will be an excellent idea. There are millions of choices and they are not expensive either. Such a present can show the person exactly how much thought you put into choosing the perfect gift taking into account his or her way of life and needs.

A–4: To my mind, the simplest way out is accessories.

B–3: As for me, I dislike pragmatic, domestic gifts.

C–1: It would be the best present and the worst is perfume. Perfume ...

D–6: So I found a perfect way out – a gift certificate. For anyone who likes shopping it is ideal.

E–2: Such a present will leave long-standing memories which are dear themselves.

F–7: Such a present can show the person exactly how much thought you put into choosing the perfect gift taking into account his or her way of life and needs.

Пояснение.

Joan: Right, Steve...About our party! Let's try and get it sorted out today so we don't have it hanging over us . OK?

Steve: Good idea, Joan. I'll take notes.

Joan: First - dates... well. That's straightforward.

Steve: The last working day before Christmas... which is...

Joan: ... which is December 21st.

Steve: ...which is going to be pretty difficult to book at Christmas so we'd better think of two or three places just to be on the safe side.

Joan: Well, last year was a disaster.

Steve: The Red Lion, wasn't it?

Joan: Yeah. We ought to go for something more expensive, 'cause you...

Steve: ... you get what you pay for.

Joan: That new Indian restaurant in Wetherfield is supposed to be excellent... the Rajdoot.

Steve: How do you spell that?

Joan: R-A-J-D-O-O-T.

Steve: But it's bound to be packed.

Joan: Well, let's put that down as the first choice and have some back-ups. What about the Park View Hotel as the second choice?

Steve: Yes, that's always reliable. Park View Hotel...

Joan: And the London Arms just in case.

Steve: London Arms...

Joan: I'll call them now if you want.

Steve: No. I'll do it, Joan. You are really busy. Have you got the numbers?

Joan: Not for the Rajdoot, but ... right... Park View Hotel: 777193 and ... London Arms: 207658.

Steve: Great. Before I ring, we'd better just make sure they are within the price range.

Joan: Up to £15 a head?

Steve: I think you'll find some people won't be able to go that high.

Joan: Well, you can't get anything decent under £10.

Steve: OK. We'll say £12?

Joan: OK.

Steve: And we'd better make sure there's good vegetarian food.

Joan: Yes, you know what the boss is like.

Steve: Don't remind me. I'll let you know as soon as I find out anything.

A(1) — 1(T), "First dates."

B(2) — 2(F), "Last year was a disaster." A disaster means something awful, you can't be satisfied with that.

C(3) — 1(T), "How do you spell that?"

D(4) — 3(NS)

E(5) — 2(F), "No, I'll do it, Joan, you're really busy."

F(6) — 1(T), "We'll say 12 pounds? — OK."

John has to use artificial fur because

- 1) it makes clothes look better.
- 2) It is less expensive than the real one.
- 3) his clients want to wear it.

Пояснение.

Presenter: John, you're one of very few major designers who are publicly committed to being fur-free.

John: I haven't used fur in my collections for over 16 years. I haven't used leather for probably almost as long.

Presenter: What's your opinion about using artificial animal products, like fur and leather, for example? They look so much like real fur that people might get the wrong idea.

John: You're absolutely right. The technology has advanced so much that you're able to get the look and feel of real fur. And also leather — with leather, even more than with fur, the technological alternative is so obvious that there is no argument about it. It's more durable and the price..., well, it varies a lot, sometimes it can cost as much as real leather. But the problem is that you're propagating the idea that fur is acceptable by wearing it, because a lot of people can't tell what is real and what is not real. You know, I'd refuse to use even artificial fur, but I can't because of my clients, for whom fur is a status symbol.

Presenter: Is fur still a big deal in fashion? It seemed to go out of fashion for a while.

John: I know. I just got back from an appointment uptown. The weather was so nice I decided to walk down Fifth Avenue. The amount of furs that I saw on people and the amount of fur trim — whether on men's jackets or baubles hanging from hats to full length coats — is surprising. And as an expert in this field, I can tell what is fake and what's not, and the amount of real fur out there is shocking.

Presenter: I think your fight for cruelty-free fashion is really tough. What about your opponents?

John: There are a lot of them. For example, the Scandinavian fur industry is one of many. It keeps trying to bring furs back into fashion. They educate young designers about the different animal furs available, giving them furs free, and helping them integrate fur into their designs. I'm actively engaging with young designers as well but in a different manner. In addition to my own participation in the 'Cool vs. Cruel' design contests, I'm a guest lecturer at some very prestigious city design schools. This semester I'm challenging students to create a collection 'without any animal products' at all.

Presenter: So are only industries like the Scandinavian fur one responsible for fur in fashion or are there any other reasons?

John: Of course, there's a financial aspect to it. You know, I could have got millions of dollars in fur licensing by now. I could be rich. I would be able to live a much better lifestyle than I'm living right now if I had taken these offers. But I sleep in peace at night knowing that I'm not part of that. Then there's also this, you know, 'well why should I worry about animals' attitude with a lot of people who are in fashion. I think this is a major problem here. They only think about themselves, and their reputations. They are self-obsessed. They are the worst!

Presenter: What do you think are some ways we can get the fashion-wearing public and designers to care?

John: I think just constantly making them aware of the cruelty involved. Just a continuous bombardment with information. I believe in protesting without violence, of course, that's exactly what we're trying to fight against — violence against animals. It's a slow process which could be compared, maybe to..., for example, to the long-lasting fight of black people for their rights. A hundred years ago people also thought that black people shouldn't have the rights of white people. And 30 years ago people thought that smoking was okay for you. It's all a matter of becoming a more advanced society and more caring individuals.

Presenter: John, are you a vegetarian?

John: You know, I'm trying to become a vegetarian. But having been brought up in a traditional way, it's always a battle. I eat red meat once in a while. Now and then I also have chicken. I think today vegetarian food is available not only for well-to-do people but for everybody. The problem is dietary habits you have had since your early childhood. They are difficult to change. I know it's a slow process, but I hope by the end of this year I'll have completely cut meat out.

Presenter: John, what first made you aware of the cruelty involved in fur?

John: I think any intelligent person, no matter how old he or she is, realizes there's death involved with this type of fashion. And you read about it and just become aware of how savage this industry is. When I was a young designer, I had a bunch of fur, which I used in one of my collections. And I thought, 'Oh how beautiful, how fabulous!' My clients also admired the collection. But then I became aware of what goes on, and I guess, more mature as an individual and a more of a caring person about the environment and the lives of helpless animals. It's really depressing to realize that we aren't doing enough to protect the environment. Maybe I even shouldn't be showing fake fur. With the technology today artificial fur looks so real that by wearing it you are advertising it. I would like to help as much as I can with any of the organizations that want to help protect animals, including vocal protests as well as financially.

Walking down Fifth Avenue one day, John realized that

Secrets of Long Life

There are places in the world where people live longer than anywhere else. The remote Japanese island of Okinawa is one of these places. While the lifespan in Britain is 77 years for men and 81 for women, Okinawa has a population of about one million, of which 900 are centenarians — A _____ in Britain or the USA. So what is their secret of long life?

"The calendar may say they're 80, but their body says they're 60," says Bradley Willcox, a scientist researching the extraordinary phenomenon. The research has shown hormonal differences between Okinawans and B _____ but their longevity has been linked to diet. They eat more tofu and soya than any other people in the world and also enjoy a range of different fruit and vegetables, all rich in anti-oxidants. But the most significant thing isn't what they eat but how much. The Okinawans C _____ known as 'hara hachi bu', which translates as 'eat until you are only 80 % full'.

Scientists refer to this way of eating as 'caloric restrictions'. No-one knows exactly why it works, but scientists believe it D _____ that there is the danger of famine. This in turn E _____ and so may lead to better preservation and slower aging.

"It's a stark contrast with the cultural habits that drive food consumption in F _____ " says Mr. Willcox. If we look at high streets and supermarkets in most other countries, you will see that he is right. Restaurants offer all-you-can-eat menus and supersize portions. Supermarkets are full of special offers encouraging us to buy more food than we need.

Задание 12 № 254 тип 12*To Become Wealthy

As a kid, I always wanted to become wealthy. I knew if I could achieve this, I would be able to consider myself successful. At the time, I had no worries and felt my happiness would be based on whether I could fulfill all my needs and wants. My simple philosophy of that time was if I was rich, I would definitely be content with my life.

My father always stressed his belief that happiness includes much more than money. I can remember him lecturing me about how money does not make an individual happy; other things in life such as: health, family, friends, and memorable experiences make a person genuinely happy. At this time in my life, I took what my dad said for granted and did not give any thought to his words. All I could see was the great life my cousins had because they had everything a kid ever dreamed of.

At a young age, I noticed society was extremely materialistic. The media seemed to portray the wealthy as happy people who add value to our society. My opinions did not change; in high school I still sought a career that would eventually yield a high salary. I still felt that the possibility of living life from paycheck to paycheck would automatically translate into my unhappiness. However, things changed when I decided to take an internship in the accounting department for the summer after my second year of college.

Starting the first day on the job in the accounting department, I found myself extremely bored. I was forced to do monotonous work, such as audit eight thousand travel and expense reports for a potential duplicate. In addition, I had to relocate away from friends and family in order to accept the position. I was earning the money I always wanted; however, I noticed that having money to spend when you are by yourself was not satisfying.

I began to think back to what my dad always said. After a few months in the job, I truly realized that money does not bring happiness. A more satisfying experience for me would have been doing an ordinary summer job for far less money. For me to understand that concept, it took an experience as painful as this one. I often contemplated how much money it would take me to do this as my everyday job. I concluded, whatever the salary for this position I would never be capable of fulfilling a happy life and making a career out of this job.

As I looked forward to the summer to draw to a close, I truly comprehended the meaning of my dad's words. Contrary to my prior beliefs, I firmly believe through experience that money cannot make a person happy. The term 'wealth' is a broad term, and I believe the key to happiness is to become wealthy in great memories, friends, family, and health. This I believe.

In his childhood the narrator's idea of happiness was to

- 1) get what he wanted.
- 2) live an interesting life.
- 3) be an influential person.
- 4) make other people happy.

Пояснение.

You have received a letter from your English-speaking pen friend Mary who writes

... Summer is coming and I want to look my best: healthy, energetic and physically fit. So I'm trying to eat plain, simply cooked natural food, have enough sleep at night and I have recently joined our local fitness club. Do you do anything special to stay healthy? What makes people healthy and strong? What do you think about a healthy lifestyle?

By the way, I'm going to spend a month at the seaside this summer...

Write a letter to Mary. In your letter answer her questions, ask 3 questions about her coming summer holidays. Write 100-140 words. Remember the rules of letter writing.

Пояснение.

St. Petersburg, Russia
November, 30

Dear Mary,

Thank you for your letter. I'm sorry for not writing you for so long. I spent my time doing a school project.

I hope that all your efforts will show a great result. I try to care more about my health lately: I try to avoid unhealthy and fat food. Also I train every morning and go to the gym. I think that sport and healthy food are the most important components of being healthy and strong. Nowadays, the healthy lifestyle becomes more and more popular and I don't see anything bad in it.

Anyway, you've mentioned holidays. With whom are you going to the seaside? Why have you decided to spend the month there? What exactly are you going to do?

I've got to go as my friend is asking me for help.

Write back soon.

Best wishes,

Kate

Comment on one of the following statements.

- It is wrong to make pupils read a lot in summer.*
- Some people think that you can have only one true friend.*

What is your opinion? Do you agree with this statement? Write 200–250 words. Use the following plan:

- make an introduction (state the problem)
- express your personal opinion and give 2–3 reasons for your opinion
- express an opposing opinion and give 1–2 reasons for this opposing opinion
- explain why you don't agree with the opposing opinion
- make a conclusion restating your position

Пояснение.

Summer reading is a lasting problem for schools. Some say it is wrong to make pupils read much in summer, others argue that it is a positive thing rather than a negative one.

I tend to agree with the former for two main reasons. The first one is that obligation makes kids hate things they are obliged to do, especially such boring thing for kids as reading books. Back when I had to deal with this, all of my peers loathed literature for that very reason, and that is by no means a good thing. The second one is the fact that kids are obliged to read not just any books, but the classic books that were never written for kids, so even if they do read those books, they hardly understand anything.

However, there are people that think the pupils' attitude does not matter and the books accomplish the task of teaching them the language anyway, so there is nothing wrong with making the kids read a lot in summer and in general. They also say that it teaches discipline.

I cannot totally agree with them, though. Indeed, classic literature usually teaches good language and having to read it might teach you discipline, but is it acceptable at a cost of total disrespect and hatred for the pupil's own country's heritage or any literature at all which naturally develop in him because of those unneeded obligations? Definitely not.

To conclude it is safe to say that making pupils read a lot in summertime will not bring us any good now or in the future and this should be changed.

Islands that appear and disappear are certainly part of the world's legends. But in 1963, with the aid of cameras and scientific observers, some of those legends were given a solid basis of fact. For example, on November 13, 1963, a kind of miracle occurred. An island was born.

On that day a fishing boat sailed into waters that were boiling and rolling and foul with a strong smell. The world still had a hard time believing the miracle that was to occur. It was the first time that scientists were to witness the unexpected birth of an underwater island.

First the engineer, then the captain, and at last the cook were aware of awful smell and the peculiar roll of the sea. But it was the cook who first noticed the smoke. He thought there was a ship in trouble somewhere on the seas.

These are photos from your photo album. Choose one photo to describe to your friend.

You will have to start speaking in 1.5 minutes and will speak for not more than 2 minutes (12–15 sentences). In your talk remember to speak about:

- where and when the photo was taken
- what/who is in the photo
- what is happening
- why you keep the photo in your album
- why you decided to show the picture to your friend

You have to talk continuously, starting with: "I've chosen photo number ...".

Пояснение.

I've chosen photo number 3. I would like to tell you more about this picture. I live in a little village and I always had a dream to visit New York. I was shocked by the greatness of the architecture. I decided to take the picture in the most famous place of the city. I took the photo on the first day of my trip nearby the popular commercial intersection – Times Square. The main drawback of the big cities is excessive amount of commercials. But I guess it's inevitable reality of the modern world. In the foreground of the photo a lot of tourists are standing. They're trying to make a good shot. In the background you can see many screens. I keep the photo in my album because the height of the buildings surprises me. Also this is the only picture from my trip. I decided to show the picture to you because I thought that you would be glad to see the most beautiful places that I was lucky to visit. I hope you liked my picture.

Высказывание должно быть логично; содержать вступительную и заключительную фразы, соответствующие теме. Средства логической связи должны быть использованы верно. Необходимо избегать необоснованных пауз в речи, верно расставлять ударения, правильно использовать интонацию, не нарушать нормы произношения слов.

You will speak for not more than 2 minutes (12–15 sentences). You have to talk continuously.

Пояснение.

In the photo number one we can see a group of young people. All of them are sitting in a class, they might be university students or high school students. One of them, a guy, is laying on the table and sleeping during the lecture. In the picture number two we see a young man, who is sleeping as well. He is probably at home, sleeping on the couch. It looks like his sleep is very deep, the couch should be cozy.

Both of the pictures are related with sleeping. In both of them there are some people who are sleeping. The difference is that in the first photo a guy is sleeping on the table, in the public place (a classroom). In the second one other guy is sleeping on the sofa, at home.

As for me, I'd prefer sleeping at home. Firstly, because it's rather comfortable than sleeping in the classroom. Secondly because teacher can start to yell at you, if you sleep during his lectures. And thirdly, because it's hard to pass your exam successfully if you miss your classes sleeping.
